

Corny Jokes

by
Randy C. Finch
(1/10/2005)

1. One student asks another, "Why is this computer screen sitting here in the hallway?" The other student replies, "Oh, that's the hall monitor."
2. The vice principal says to the principal just before a meeting, "I noticed you have purchased a new loudspeaker for the auditorium." The principal responds, "Oh, no, that's just our guest speaker for the evening."
3. A compact disc goes into a bank and asks, "What kind of interest rate can a CD get around here?"
4. The chair warns the desk, "Your drawers are showing!"
5. After a scolding by her father, a young girl runs to her mother who picks her up to hold her. The father says to his daughter, "I was just trying to correct you. You don't have to get up in arms over it."
6. The computer disc on top of a stack asks the one on the bottom, "Why are you so sad?" The bottom disc sighs, "I've been demoted to underwear."
7. A gun enters a book store and asks, "Where are your magazines?"
8. A shotgun went to the beach because he heard he could find a lot of shells there.
9. Did you hear about the gun that backfired because his therapist said he needed to bite the bullet if he was ever going to change?
10. A mother asks her daughter why she hadn't prepared the food. The daughter answers, "I couldn't find the thyme."
11. An assistant says to a lawyer, "I heard you got a new briefcase." The lawyer responds, "That's right, but they still haven't found the underwear the guy stole."
12. One phone inquires of another, "What's gotten into you today?" The other phone sulks. "People have been pushing my buttons all day long."
13. A wall containing many hanging awards had to visit the dentist because it had a lot of plaque build-up.

14. One document asks another, "Why are you so happy?" The other document answers, "I just got penned."
15. Joe asks Tom, "You don't seem yourself today. What's wrong?" Tom replies, "I think I am a victim of id theft."
16. A thermometer breaks into a house and warns the homeowner, "I'm going to take your temperature; don't try to stop me!"
17. The pilot notices that his plane is full of novels. He says to the flight attendant, "It looks like our flight is booked solid today."
18. If a bookie is someone who keeps the books, is a cookie someone who keeps the cooks?
19. Harry asked his wife, "Did you put the ad in the newspaper?" Sue answered, "That's classified information!"
20. A waiter says to a customer, "Hello. My name is Charles. I will be your server today." The customer counters, "Hi. My name is Ray. I will be your workstation today."
21. After listening to Photoshop tell a scary story, Excel implores, "Don't be so graphic!"
22. After creating a faulty zip file, WinZip explained, "I have a bug in my zipper."
23. Did you hear about the computer that thought she had Alzheimer's because she couldn't recognize the printer?
24. In a garden one flower said to another, "Keep your voice down. I think someone in here is a plant."
25. Did you hear about the man who was studying his family tree? He lost his balance and fell out 20 feet up.